“ Greg, I am very sorry to learn of your mother's death. I remember your mom always being exceptionally nice. She also had the patience of a saint, which came in handy not so much in raising your sisters but more so you! I also remember how close your family was. I'm told the loss of a parent is so difficult as to defy description. Please know that your mom and your family will be in our prayers. "After the sabbath, as the first day of the week was dawning, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary came to see the tomb. And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, approached, rolled back the stone, and sat upon it. His appearance was like lightning and his clothing was white as snow. The guards were shaken with fear of him and became like dead men. Then the angel said to the women in reply, "Do not be afraid! I know that you are seeking Jesus the crucified. He is not here, for he has been raised just as he said. Come and see the place where he lay." -Matthew 28: 1-8

“ Dear Dana, I was so sorry to read about your mom. My mom moved to heaven in September 2005, so I know that feeling in the pit of your stomach. My words will not help you through this time but my prayers will. Always talk to her and watch for her. She can now watch over you all the time and guide you. I believe that the day my mom died, is now her eternal birthday in heaven. And most of all, our moms do not move on to heaven until they have taught us everything we need to know. It just is hard to believe we are now expected to carry on without them. Call me if you need anything. I know it hurts. I will cry with you. Love , Terri
