“ My cousin Ken was a master storyteller but his best story of all was not one he told on stage. It was the story of his life: one of love, gentleness, good humor and devotion to family. I always looked up to this lovely man. May he rest in peace and may his family gain strength and inspiration from his story.

“ Our deepest sympathies to the Wielfaert family. Just heard the news today at our office, so very sorry for your loss. Ken was one of our customers at C.S. Burge, Inc for over 20 years. We worked with Ken through many demolition projects when he was at St. Vincent's and then the past several years with the dumpster rental service with Thompson Construction. Always so kind, pleasant and professional to talk and work with. Prayers for comfort and peace during this very difficult time. C.S. Burge, Inc.

“ I will always remember his smile and gentleness. In all the years I have know Ken- I have never heard him say a bad word about anyone or even seen him mad. He was a kind loving soul and would be the first one to help without asking. I love the long talks we use to have about gardening. To me he is truly a saint and I will miss him deeply. This world seems so empty without him.

“ I met Ken through the Toledo SCBWI writing group. The group only met quarterly, but I so looked forward to seeing Ken especially, anxious to read whatever story he would be presenting that month. He was so funny, encouraging, kind, generous, insightful and always open to new ideas. We had such fun discussing his stories about Vetchtibella, Quiggly the Koala and Marvin the Moose, just to name a few. I regret that I haven't been able to attend our meetings for a while now, but they will never be the same without Ken. "It is not often that someone comes along who is a true friend and a good writer. {Ken} was both." Rest in Peace, my friend.

“ I met Ken through Northern Ohio SCBWI. I enjoyed hearing his stories and appreciated his friendly manner. Ken not only attended many of our workshops but faithfully volunteered to help at our annual conferences. He was always thoughtful, helpful, and quite dependable. He impressed me as a very kind man. I always enjoyed our conversations and will miss his presence and contributions at our gatherings. I extend my deepest sympathies to his family at this time of loss.
