

Angela Stylianides

January 18, 2009

3-8 PM Angela Stylianides, born June 26, 1949, passed away peacefully on Monday, January 29th. Angela was born in New York, New York to Gus (deceased) and Fostira Pappas. After graduating high school, she attended secretarial school and worked for the president of JC Penney's in New York. In 1978, she met her loving husband, Frixos Stylianides at a Christmas party. They were married on August 19, 1979, at Saint Ekaterine Greek Orthodox Church in Astoria, New York. In June of 1980, they moved to Toledo, Ohio and worked at the family-owned Coney Island on Superior Street. Later she became co-owner with her husband, Frixos. Angela liked to travel to many exotic places, such as Puerto Rico, Aruba, Hawaii and the ancestral country of her parents, Cyprus. She enjoyed building her home and decorating the interior and exterior to make it a showplace for entertaining family and friends. She is survived by her loving husband of 30 years, Frixos, of Toledo, her mother, Fostira Pappas, of New York, her mother-in-law, Maria Stylianides, of Cyprus, brothers and sisters-in-law, aunts and uncles, nieces, nephews, goddaughters, godsons, cousins and friends. Visitation will be Thursday, January 22nd, at the Ansberg-West Funeral Home, 3000 West Sylvania Avenue, from 3:00 to 8:00 pm with Trisagion Services at 7:00 pm. The funeral service will be Friday, January 23rd, 11:00 am at Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Cathedral, 740 Superior Street, Toledo, Ohio 43604. Contributions in memory of Angela may be made to Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Cathedral.

“ My thoughts and prayers go out to Frixos, his family, Angie's family and their closest friends. Although I've only known Angie for a short time, her cheerful personality and natural beauty will live on in all she touched. Phillip was a very lucky guy to have Angie as his nouna. She was, and will always be very special to us.
