“ My husband and I were neighbors of your parents when we lived in our house at 3720 Bowen Road. We remember both of them fondly and can still see in our mind's eye the painting on the side of the garage that your creative mother crafted. I often remember her when I look at the tiny picture frame in the form of a cat. It is on my bedroom dresser and holds the photo of our first son, Brian. She had given that to us in her kind and generous way. Also, I have the recipe she shared with me when I had raved about a dessert she had made after eating it at her house: "Halavah- from her Greek Grandmama." Part of the directions say, "Pat top of mixture w/ loving hand." It was my good fortune to have crossed her path, even for a short time. I wanted to see her grown-up boys, but I was unable to attend the services. I wish you two and your families the very best of future. Postscript: Corey, I believe I used to tutor you at my house.
