“ I can't believe this has happened...I have known you for almost 15 years..It is all so unreal and devastating..I feel like someone is playing a dirty trick and you will post some new pictures of you on your bike soon...Life isn't going to be the same with you gone for so very many people..I still totally remember you in the driveway of Dave's moms' house with the car that would bounce when you hit the button..Seems like yesterday...I will miss you buddy.

“ Glenn- My brotha! I have known you since grade school at Longfellow and that is dating back about 30 years. Throughout the years, I watched you grow and morph from little boy to skater, to rapper-man, to gangsta-man, to a grown man”always changing, growing, and evolving. I just ran into you about a month ago at Nick and Jimmy's. We picked up just like old times, reminiscing about my mom driving us to Ohio Skate in grade school in her brand new TRANS AM. I know you loved that car because that was the one story we always started our conversations with once we would meet up again. You told me that you were so proud of your parents for living in their same house (that was paid off, I might add because you so proudly told me) and that they were still married (I think you said over 35 years, which again, you so proudly announced)! I loved seeing your pride that you have in your family. You treated Andrew like he was your family too. I asked you to go and visit him at our home if you had the time while in town, and I was so happy that you took the time out to visit. It made his day/year/ probably life just to be able to re-live some of the old times that you, Matt, and he shared. You have no idea what it meant to him and I thank you so much for doing it! It is with great sadness that I write on your obituary wall because I feel that many people who knew you feel slighted with your early departure from this earthly world. You were in my wedding with Andrew 15 years ago and prior to that, you lived with him and his brother Matt. You created “brotha-bonds”; that will withstand the test of time with most of your friends including those Schafer boys. You were the one person in life that I know who could just smile and bring joy to anyone who was a recipient of your infectious smile. That was truly a unique gift! You were contagious with your purity of happiness of life! You lived life fully without boundaries and was always a true friend to everyone you connected closely to. Glenn, just know everyone will miss you, and you have left a mark in everyone’s hearts forever. In remembering you, we all know that you lived life with no regrets and with the most passion and intensity there was. For that, you have inspired and re-kindled the same passion in many people since your passing. I hope you are "maxin" and relaxin" now in Heaven in anticipation of greeting your many fellow brotha"s in the years ahead. Until everyone meets you again, hold tight for the ride and we will see you on the other side! We all love you brotha! will be missed by everyone and have left a

“ *Dear Glenn, I met you on Valentine's day and for two years you were a big part of my life! You inspired me to ride motorcycles, serious bike riding and to live life to the fullest! Today I did a 30 mile bicycle ride in your honor (from Redondo/Venice Beach/Redondo). I will always remember you as someone that brought a lot of happiness into my life! You were one of a kind! “ Shock and sadness. Glenn, you were always there for your friends and treated us like gold. You had an infectious personality that put everyone at ease. I always looked forward to seeing you, and we had so many great times together" those moments have been racing through my head for days now. You were an individual who lived on your own terms, and people respected that. A lot of people are going to miss you, but nobody will forget you. If there are motorcycles where you are, keep riding and I'll catch up with you later. -Fry Daddy

“ Oh Glen. You really are a special person. Only you, your kind sweet sunny loving caring soul , could bring a smile to my daughter's face. While she was in a dismal place, questioning her own life, and I thought I would not hear her silly laugh again. But you brought her happy face back! She was excited about your plans together and looking forward to life again. Thank you for that. It was a privilege to have you in our life. We will miss you. Heartbroken.

“ I don't know where to begin, maybe in second grade of Ms. Pfeiffers class when we first met, or how our paths always stayed connected until recently. I am going to miss you Glenn, 'Big G'. you rest peacefully in God's Hands now my friend, until we meet again. To the Jasas Family, my heartfelt condolences to you in your time of loss. I cannot be there in person, but my spirit shall be. West Side For Life Bro.

“ Glenn has been such a large & special part of our lives since Shane & I got together. I have loved him from the day that I met him- he made it very easy to. Shane was one of Glenn's few and sacred 'right hand men' in life, and he is now trying to do his best to be that for him in his death. He is running himself ragged attempting to help and support everyone in this sad time, and I am doing my best to try to help & support him. I am unspeakably sad for all family & friends right now. It all feels very unreal at this point, and I guess it would have to when someone with a personality and a smile literally larger than life passes so suddenly. Througout our whole relationship Glenn has been one of our number 1 people to turn to for support and for anything really, so we are already feeling the difficulty of not having that as an option. I am afraid that Shane will continue to feel that void in his life for the rest of his life. We will always love you Glenn. This household, this enormous network of family & friends you leave behind, and this whole damn city will never, ever forget you. XO- Rachael Dawn Smith
