“ I first met Jim at St. Anne's Hospital where we were both volunteering. I later saw him at week day Mass at Blessed Sacrament and on weekends at Christ the King. I found Jim to be so special with a child-like loving heart and enthusiasm for others, for being Irish, for His Church and for His God.
"May songs of the angels welcome you and guide you along your way.
May the smiles of the martyrs greet your own as darkness turns into day.
Every fear will be undone and death will be no more
As songs of the angels welcome you before the face of God.
Thank you, Jim. I love you!

“ My uncle Jim is one of the very few people who I only have great memories with. My wife adored him, and my family, those that had the distinct pleasure, also thought the world of him. He emitted a natural grace and humility, I have yet to see duplicated. A true "family" man, in every selfless sense, he possessed. An old school hero, who would have laughed at such a rating, but, made it, even more factual. He truly, always thought, of others, be they, fellow vets, his large family, who adored him, or his close friends. His memory will always be with me, as long as I draw breath. He surely is in God's warm embrace, and his discomfort, that he dealt with, is forever gone. I was proud of him always, and only hoped, that he was half as proud of me, even as an adult male. He defined humanity, and "real man" to me. A true old fashioned gentleman, Irish and proud and American, I only hope, more like him follow.
God bless uncle Jim, We love you for eternity and a day.
