Sister Gail. Tina and I will always remember John and his kindness. He was a great friend and brother in Christ. when I think of him it will be with a sad heart but found memories. Sister, Gail, I'm lost for words to express my sympathy to you and the family. Let me know if there is anything we can do to help.
Your brother in Christ, Dewey Simpson.

“ John and Gail were not only my “big sister” and husband from different parents but they were both there for me so many times throughout their marriage.

One morning after I had worked all night the night before, I got the girls off to school and fell into my bed!

In my sleepy state I was awoken by movement under my bed! I grabbed the phone and jumped from my bed into the dining room without touching the floor at all!!!!

I ran to the front door while dragging my blankets with me, dialing the phone! John answered to me screaming that something or someONE was under my bed!!!

He jumped in his car and flew up Upton Rd to find me huddled on the front porch!

He bravely marched into my bedroom with a big flashlight and a hammer!! He raised the bed skirt as a bushy tailed critter ran out and into the other room! You had to be there to appreciate his hearty laughter as he made fun of me!

One thing I have to say for my big brother John! He never let me down if ever I had to call on him. He and Gail gave us a roof over our head till I got an apartment. a meal in our belly or a battery jump for my car or a safe place for my children while I worked. His kindness did not stop with me. He had a smile and a helping hand that he extended to so many in his life.

Thank you John! You will be missed.💔
