“ It was Mrs. Kinney's sixth grade in the elementary wing at, what was then, Bedford Junior High that a bunch of us came together. We learned the usual things along with the Greek and Roman gods and Shakespeare. John was at the center of this and taught us about stage blood. He was also a kind and sensitive force, an odd quality in pre-teens. Our entire class of '67 benefitted from his being one of us.

“ John and I met during his under graduate days at WMU. I was immediately taken by his enthusiasm for theatre, rock music, and contemporary writing about music and theatre. A grand guy, and an astute mind, he will me missed. My regrets to his family.

“ My sincere condolences to John's family for the loss of such a great guy.
I met John when he was in high school and saw immediately what a unique individual he was. And what a sense of humor ! John was a true joy to be around.
God bless and keep him.
