“ oh my god. dad, its been a year already! ya no today brings back so many memories. i remember this day, last year, so clear! i remember what jeans i was wearing, what shirt i had on. i remember what movie me and mom watched the night before. i remember that morning mom was getting me up for school, and i felt like something was wrong because i really didnt want to even get up off the couch. i remeber what i was doing when we got the call. i remember hearing mom crying and knew exactly what happend. i didnt want to believe it, but i already knew it before she had a chance to even say anything. t.j is coming over today. he wont even know what for. he wont remember you. it hurts so bad to think that your gone from your life here on earth, with us. what hurts even more, nobody can explain to me why. why dad? can you let me know why you did it? what was going through your mind? moms given me a few possible reasons for why you did it. grandma gives me another. my friends try and help but they have no clue what its like. i dont even know how to put it into words. i guess abandoned. like we ment nothing to you. i hope im making you feel bad. i have days were i miss you and nobody can change my mood. others were i get so angry i take it out on the ones who mean the most to me. others i just dont know what to do. every time i hear a nickelback song or any other one you used to listen to nonstop, i start crying. hmmm wonder why... i just i miss you and i want you back in our lives. and im with aunt jamie on this one, i want to throw a ball at your nose! i love you dad. and miss you even more every day that passes by.

“ Joe, here we are at the end of March already and I still can't believe your never coming back to us. I feel so empty and lost inside. What do I do now? Where do I go from here? Your death has left a huge hole in mine and the kids' lives. I keep telling them it's going to be okay' but how can I make them believe it when I'm not sure I do. People keep telling me at least you have the kids for company. I love our kids but newsflash it's not the same thing. I miss you holding me at night it's as if I have died with you. I sure hope things get easier soon cuz this stinks alot. I Love You Joe, I Miss You and I always will

“ I really miss you dad. It still aches to think your not down here with me anymore. Your not here to hug me when im upset, not here to talk to me, you wont be here to see me grow up. You aren't here anymore to help me get the questions on my homework wrong. haha. sometimes im scared to go to sleep at night. I know it sounds stupid but i never worried about any of that before. I painted a picture for you.... its got the beach at k.o.a where you loved to be. A road which stands for, you still had a long road ahead of you. Wings and a halo in the sky to represent that you are watching over matthew and i. Last, a tree. you know how trees lose their leaves in the winter? their not dead their just resting. Like you, are you really gone, or are you just resting? I honestly don't know why its taken me till the end of february to write, its been hard. I want you to know, i never actually thought of you as a stepdad cause you were a father. to me george didn't mean anything. at the age of 5 the only thing i remember is mom and george's last fight and the first time i met you. And you were the only father figure matthew knew. I want to know why. mom tells me why but i cant help but think it was somehow my fault. why? i don't know. T.J saw the picture of you holding him and he knew the baby was him. we told him it was uncle joe holding him. he doesn't understand now but for the short time that he knew you, he was a verry lucky little boy. You broke so many promises i don't even know if i can ever forgive you. You were the one who was supposed to walk me down the isle on my wedding day, you were supposed to teach me how to fix my own car, you said one day my art would be in a museum. It might still come true but you were supposed to be right there beside me. But what hurts me the most is when you came home from jail you promised you would never leave us again. Look what happened now. ANOTHER LIE! I don't know some days... do i miss you or hate you?, do i stay mad or forgive you?, did you go to heaven or to where you said you might be going if you didn't change your ways. mom wants you here so she can kick the crap out of you. so do i. you don't know how hard it is for me when matthew talks about the car accident. I cant wait to see you again one of these days. be ready cause i'll come lookin for you and your gonna be in huge trouble. Goodbye till then... i don't know whether to call you a jerk or somethin worse. well gotta go. -Peanut
