“ It was once said that a "Good" friend will come and bail you out of jail... while a "True" friend will be sitting right next to you saying, "Damn, that was fun!"

Miguel had that rare ability to be both. Some nights he was your own private security detail making sure nothing bad would happen to you on his watch. Other times (maybe most times) he was the life of the party ready for wherever the night led.

Whichever friend he was to you, of one thing we can be certain, his time with us was too short and he will dearly be missed

Rest in peace my friend!

“ Miguel helped me through one of the hardest times in my life. He really was one of the funniest, kindest guys I have ever known. Sending strength to the Osuna family.

“ Miguel and I had a special relationship. We made a lot of memories. Had great times and not so great times. But we always were there for each other. We had deep conversations about life, family, work, etc. We always called each other when we needed to vent and someone to just listen. There are people in your life who just understand you. We had that. I will miss our daily conversations. I will miss your daily post of being stuck by a train..lol. No words can describe the hole left in my with your passing. Lots of love....❤️

Miguel and I had a special relationship. We shared everything in our lives. We had deep conversations about life, family, friends, work, etc. We were there for each other through the good and bad. We held each other accountable through our BS. He was there for me when life continued to throw me curve balls. I will miss our daily conversations. I will miss your post about being stuck by a train..again.. lol. There is a hole in my heart with your passing. There truly is no one like Miguel. Lots of love....❤️

“ I have many memories of my son Miguel, from getting his picture with his cousin Larry as a toddler to playing baseball in little league, he played centerfield and shortstop. You know he was playing you can hear talking/yelling at the batter from centerfield. All you can do is grin and laugh 😊. Miguel is Tigers Fan and a Jets fan

“Miggie was one of those rare souls you could call at 3 a.m. and he would answer like he’d been waiting to hear from you. He had your back every single time—no hesitation, no scorecard, no matter how deep the mess. Just being near him made the hardest days feel survivable; his laugh could pull you out of a bad mood instantly. His energy reminded you life was still good, and the way he really saw people made you feel truly known.

Like everyone who loved him, I’ll miss him dearly. Put-In-Bay without his stories on the ferry, the golf course without that contagious grin, and nonstop wisecracks. Those places will never feel quite right again. We all should feel grateful for knowing him and can remember him in how he lived his life: the jokes we still quote, the way we answer the phone a little faster now and the instinct to show up for one another.

Rest in peace friend.

“ I remember the first time I saw Miguel I was living in Santa Monica, California. My brother Frank was visiting my little Miguel. Yes he was little came along. We were at the Palisades Park in Santa Monica overlooking Santa Monica pier there's a cannon there an old Cannon and Miguel playing on it. That is the memory that I will hold of Miguel because it wasn't till years later that we met again and he was an adult with his own bars Miguelito and Gavin and it is for these boys well young men now through whom my grief Miguel wherever the hell you are, I hope you're looking down smiling and all the people who will miss you and who love you especially your sons. You can rest now your job is done . You can be proud of the sons that you have raised.

Even though that big nasty body of yours is no longer with us a piece of your soul, resides, and all of us who have known you and a bigger piece remains with us inside of your sons Miguelito and Gavin I will miss you. I will miss you very much.

“ I will always cherish our friendship & so thankful we had reconnected several years back. You were always so passionate about everything you did, bowling, family, love, anger, frustrations & most of all when having fun. I am thankful to have seen all these sides of you & then some. While we may not have talked much the last few years, you will always be in my heart. Heres a special pic from way back in 1997. I hope you're having a party in heaven with your sister & laughing at Al of us for being sappy.

“ Unfortunately I d9nt have any photos to share since I knew you when I was younger, my family would come by and we'd hang out. I wish I had the chance to have gotten to know tou better, as adults. But I do remember you and your smile.

Either way you are my family and will be missed tremendously.

You're loved by so many, and will always be in our hearts.

May you rest in peace with all the other loved ones that have gone too soon as well. 💕💕

“ You were one of thee best. There's no comparison. Your infectious laughter and loving soul will surely be missed. The massive amounts of food you'd cook and ALWAYS have a plate for me if I wanted. Sitting on my porch or even at your house was always a time. Not to mention the bar visits. I'll keep you in my heart I'm broken, but I'll remember your words... Love ya Special K!!!
