“ Mrs. Saxton was my 6th grade teacher at Wernert School. She was a great teacher and really encouraged her students. I remember a funny moment when the students were being unusually talkative in class. She pulled me and another student aside and asked her to help play a joke on the other students. She asked us to keep talking even though she warned everyone we'd be making a trip to the "office" to see the principal. Well, we got in trouble and were taken out in the hall with the paddle and acted like we got in trouble when we returned to class. It was all a joke and it worked because the class quieted down! My thoughts and prayers are with you.

“ Muriel was a source of inspiration to me as I began my teaching career at Hamilton school in 1959. and continued there for the next 35 years. I will remember her pleasant smile and willingness to serve students and staff at the highest level. May God bless her and her family.

“ The family of Mrs. Saxton already knows what a wonderful lady she was, but I feel I need to share a few of my fondest memories of her. I had Mrs. Saxton as a sixth grade teacher for the 1976-77 school year at Wernert Elementary. She was a wonderful role model and an inspiration. I loved going to class every day! She taught us so many life lessons and gave us many opportunities as a class. She arranged for us to ride the trolley in downtown Toledo to see various historical buildings and architecture. She planned a luncheon where the Petro family and mothers cooked for us to try various ethnic foods, and she instilled in us the best work ethic and self-discipline. She was particular---she had us make our own margins on the notebook paper because she did not care for the space on a regular sheet of notebook paper, she had us write with a fountain pen for final copies of work, and she taught the right, and only way to color maps! I think of her quite often because I am a sixth grade teacher and think of how she would handle various school situations. I share a number of stories from my sixth grade experience with my students and try to prepare them for the future as Mrs. Saxton did for me. I will always treasure the memories!

“ Muriel Saxton was one of the most influential people in my youth, A great teacher and taught me to dream. When she saw i had holes in the bottoms of my shoes she bought me a pair and also clothes. She gave me a painting by Carlos Marrotta a italian painter that she mused i could be related to as my father had left me and was named Marotta. Always postive and inspireing.. Anyone that has had the opportunity to know Muriel has had a rare experiance. Thanks Muriel for your help and guidance. best to Family. kindest regards, Tom
