“ Pat was such a good friend and neighbor to our mother. She was always ready to lend an ear, reminisce about old times and mutual friends, and was a comforting presence for our mom. We are so sorry for your loss. Know that you are in our thoughts and prayers.

“ My mother's death was the end of the long goodbye. It was a difficult journey through her many years battling dementia, losing pieces of her a little at a time, never knowing what to expect each time I saw her. I watched her struggle with her confusion, and in lucid moments she would speak of her inability to remember. It surely was a long goodbye for her too.

She no longer suffers and is at peace. I am grateful.
