“ I am so sorry to hear of Sue's passing. We had so much fun doing craft fairs with our Barbie and Cabbage Patch clothes. She was my mentor in the alterations and custom sewing business. We shared life through church and our children. Paula Follis

“ I am so sorry for your loss. I always remember Sue as being such a kind soul with a wonderful smile and laugh. She was amazing at sewing - I still have the football uniform she made for my cabbage patch kid sporting Meadowvale Eagles colors as well as a quilted stationary holder. She adjusted an old homecoming dress for me to wear at the 6th grade breakfast, then another years later when I was in a friend's wedding. Even though I did not get to see her much after graduation, she was one of those special people who I thought about often.

What a precious soul Sue had. She had one of the longest fuses of anyone I ever knew. I can't remember a time when she expressed her anger. She loved her church and children immensely, I believe she mentored both my kids for confirmation. Kids knew she loved them and they loved her right back. I can remember when she announced her last pregnancy. She was so excited to be having another child. It's been years now since I last saw her, but her face and voice are still clear in my mind. She was a remarkable woman in many ways. Sue will be missed by so many people. The loss of her, especially to those of you in her family, is enormous. I pray the promise of Heaven will bring all of you comfort in your grief. Sue may have died to this world, but how wonderful to know she will go on now and forever and be in the presence of Jesus. The reunions in Heaven are the best ones. May God's peace be with you until you meet with her again. Jamie Simmons

I didn't know Sue that well but she was part of my church family and was always there for me when I needed any alterations. I would always ask about her health and put her in my healing prayers. As time went on I just kept her there as the healing I prayed for was yet to come. My thoughts and prayers are with her family.
